

CHARLES N. BROWER

Charles N. Brower has been a Judge of the Iran-United States Claims Tribunal in The Hague since 1983 and has served as Judge Ad Hoc of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights.

Judge Brower has been Acting Legal Adviser of the United States Department of State, Deputy Special Counsellor to the President of the United States, and a member of the United States Secretary of State's Advisory Committee on Public International Law, of the Register of Experts of the United Nations Compensation Commission and the Panels of Arbitrators and Conciliators of the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes. He is a past President of the American Society of International Law and Chair of the Advisory Board of the Institute for Transnational Arbitration. He is a former partner and Special Counsel at White & Case LLP in both New York City and Washington, DC, where he handled litigation in federal and state courts throughout the United States, including jury trials, bench trials and appeals, in a wide range of civil, administrative, and criminal proceedings, while specializing during the last 30 years in the handling of disputes involving States or State entities before international courts, tribunals and commissions. He is also a member of 20 Essex Street Chambers in London.

In 2009 Judge Brower was awarded the American Society of International Law's Manley O. Hudson Medal for "pre-eminent scholarship and achievement in international law . . . without regard to nationality." The University of California Berkeley School of Law (Boalt Hall) bestowed the Stefan A. Riesenfeld Award on Judge Brower in recognition of "outstanding achievements and contributions in the field of international law" in 2010. In 2013 Judge Brower was awarded the Lifetime Achievement Award by the Section of International Law of the American Bar Association, and the Pat Murphy Award by the Institute for Transnational Arbitration for "Exceptional Civic Contributions and Extraordinary Professional Achievements in International Arbitration."
